Ohio Cranberry Supply Given Tentative Nod

Northwest Variety Seldom Reaches This State, AG Aide Says

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The cranberries in Ohio were given guarded and tentative approval here today by Agriculture Director Robert H. Terhune.

He said cranberries sold in Ohio usually come from Wisconsin, Michigan and New England, not from the northwest United States, where the controversial cranberry pesticide was reported used by growers.

Wholesalers in Cleveland and Cincinnati told the Ohio Department of Agriculture they have no stocks of berries from the northwest, Terhune explained. He said both wholesalers and retailers are cooperating with the state and public to hold up distribution and sales until precautionary tests in Ohio are completed.

Four agricultural agents — two from the state and two from the Federal Food and Drug Administration are testing samples in Ohio, Terhune said.

The tests will continue over the weekend with the help of chemists from both the state and the FDA district office in Cincinnati, he added.

The actual condition of Ohio cranberries may be known by Monday or Tuesday. Until then cranberry buyers should avoid using the northwest U. S. variety, Terhune said.

Events that have raised cranberry from the bog to the spotlight have revealed the power of the federal government in guarding the nation's food supply.

For half a century this power has existed, but "the cranberry episode," as Secretary of Welfare Arthur S. Flemming calls it, marks one of its most sweeping applications.

Formal court actions, filed this week in San Francisco, asked seizure of two small shipments — a total of 14 tons — of allegedly contaminated West Coast cranberries. But the incident is affecting, at least temporarily, an entire crop.

There were these developments:

1. Ocean Spray Cranberries, Inc., a major grower cooperative, says it is moving quickly to assay crops grown in Massachusetts, Wisconsin and New Jersey, about which no question was raised, as well as those in the West Coast. It hopes to clear uncontaminated cranberries of suspicion in plenty of time for Thanksgiving Day Dinners. Expanded forces from the Food and Drug Administration also were checking the berries.

2. The Army and Navy suspended use of cranberries grown in Washington and Oregon, but will permit use of those it can prove grew elsewhere.

3. The New Jersey Farm Bureau said it will seek government payments to farmers for sales they have lost as a result of the controversy.

4. The National Grange, meeting in Long Beach, Calif., demanded that federal officials appear and explain why the crackdown was ordered.

The episode had its origins in 1957 when some cranberry grow-

Police Chief Elmer Merriman today warned local parents that they will be held responsible for acts of vandalism by juveniles.

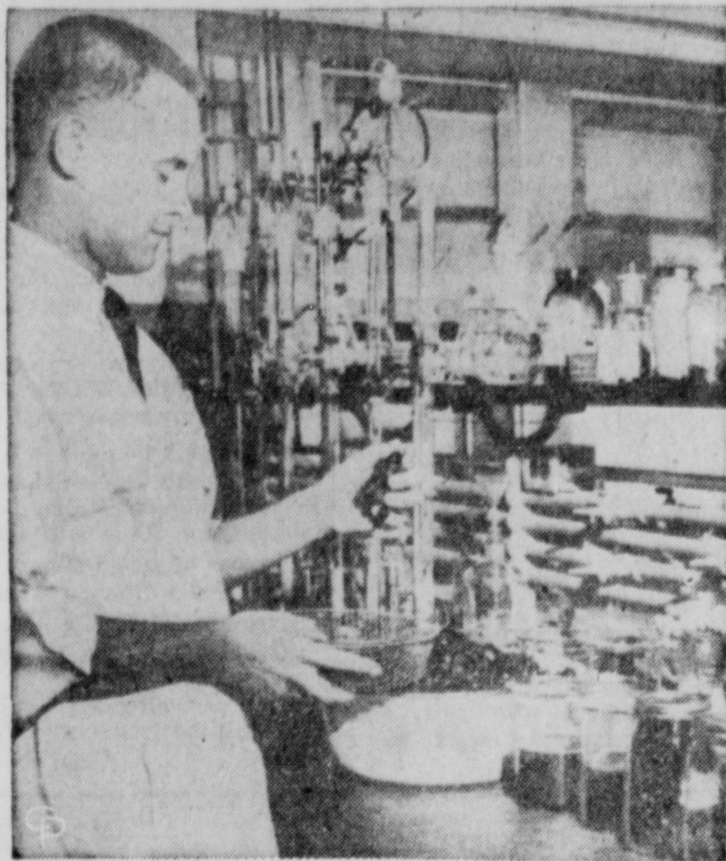

Chief Merriman said every effort is being made to apprehend persons involved in the many cases of destruction of property and egg throwing here.

Officers were called today to the home of Harry Styers, E. Mound St., where portions of a picket fence were torn down. The chief said several cars here have suffered extensive paint damage due to eggs being splattered on them.

Merriman said responsible juveniles or their parents would be forced to pay for damages. Local juvenile authorities are working with police in an effort to stop the vandalism.

Sheriff Makes Apprehension In Local Tire, Wheel Thefts

Two months of investigating numerous tire and rim thefts here led to the arrest of Neil E. Sark, 19, Route 3, Circleville, yesterday by the Pickaway County Sheriff's Department.

Sark was arrested by Deputy Dwight Radcliff. He will face accusations of taking 16 tires and rims from cars parked at the local DuPont plant.

Deputy Radcliff said Sark admitted taking the tires and wheels. According to his signed statement, the accused said he sold most of the tires to a local store.

Sark said he took most of the tires and rims during September and October. Several of the thefts were reported to local law men and others were not.

SARK, who lives on the Bolender-Pontious Road, came under suspicion on November 6 when he was spotted at the DuPont parking lot looking in cars. He told guards at the plant that he was looking for ducks to land at the nearby Scioto River.

The accused told Radcliff that he sold 11 of the tires, kept three and burned two. He said he threw 11 of the rims in a creek near his house, put three on his own car and kept two at his garage.

Deputy Radcliff said all of the rims were recovered. Sark said he usually sold the tires three at a time, never receiving more than $4 for each.

Radcliff said Sark also admitted pilfering four hub caps in Columbus recently, plus taking gasoline and oil from two neighboring homes.

According to the deputy, charges will be filed against Sark tomorrow in Circleville Municipal Court.

Portsmouth Man Declares Candidacy

Frank E. Smith, former Portsmouth Postmaster, today announced his candidacy for the Democratic nomination for Sixth District Congressman subject to the primary election to be held on May 3, 1960.

Frank Smith served as Postmaster nine years, receiving his appointment to this position from the late Congressman James G. Polk also recommended Smith. While serving as Postmaster he became active in the National Assn. of Postmasters, serving as vice president of the Ohio Chapter from 1952 to 1954.

Polk also recommended Smith for appointment on the Advisory Committee of the National Rivers and Harbors Congress for the Sixth Congressional District of Ohio. He was duly appointed.

SMITH was the Democratic nominee for Congress from the Sixth District in the November election of 1946. He was a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Lt. Governor of Ohio in the statewide primary election of 1958. John W. Donahy was nominated in this race, and was subsequently elected Lt. Governor in the November election of last year.

Smith is a member of the Madison Grange, the Scioto County Pomona Grange and the Council of the Ohio Farm Bureau. He owns a stock and dairy farm in Scioto County.

He is of the opinion that the farmer needs more and better representation in the Congress. "Indicative of this," states Mr. Smith, "is the present plight of the farmer, who pays more for everything that he purchases, and receives less for what he sells."

"The House Agriculture Committee recently reported that retail food costs have risen 20 percent in the last 10 years, but the prices received by farmers have fallen 8 per cent," Smith said.

Smith is active in Portsmouth business circles. He is a partner with William E. Gulker in Key-

Rockefeller Sees Vital Role for U.S.

Merely Frustrating Russia Not Enough New York Chief Says

LOS ANGELES (AP) — New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller said today that the United States has a higher goal than frustrating the ambitions of the Soviet Union.

That goal, he said, "is to make sure that the emerging international order will serve, indeed will save, the aspirations of all mankind for a life of freedom, dignity and justice."

Rockefeller — widely mentioned as a probable candidate for the Republican presidential nomination but still not ready to confirm or deny it—arrives here today to open a fast-paced, four-day speaking tour of the west.

In a text prepared for delivery to the Los Angeles World Affairs Council, he said:

"The tensions between the United States and the Soviet Union should not and must not obscure our awareness of the great and affirmative challenge before us, and the resisting of Soviet aggression is only a part, a necessary but a negative part, of our great task as a nation.

"We are not simply striving as a nation to heal the wounds opened by the so-called cold war. We are striving to make man himself — the commonwealth of nations — healthy and strong."

"The test, therefore, of every action and every decision, must be more constructive, more profound and more serious than merely its usefulness as a momentary device to deter the aggression or check the claims of Soviet communism. Let me emphasize this.

"Our supreme purpose is not to defeat the intentions or the ambitions of others. Our supreme purpose is to struggle to achieve a world that respects our common heritage of belief in dignity and freedom of all peoples."

The New York governor heads north after a day in Los Angeles. He will make stops in northern California, Oregon, Washington and Idaho.

Ike Heads For Georgia Golf Course

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower left for Augusta, Ga., today for a rest before his good-will tour of three continents.

A small White House staff and George E. Allen, businessman and personal friend, accompanied the President on the flight.

This is Eisenhower's 24th visit to the Augusta National Golf Club since his 1952 election. The length of his stay this time is indefinite. White House officials said that Eisenhower wanted to get in some rest before he undertakes a strenuous 11-nation goodwill tour beginning Dec. 4.

While in Augusta, however, work in preparation for the January session of Congress will continue. Several government officials, including Budget Director Maurice H. Stans, will be going down for conferences on the 1961 budget and possible new legislation.

The President has already had a meeting this week with Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson on a new farm program to be submitted to Congress.

Eisenhower's last trip to Augusta was Oct. 21-25. During that visit he got in a few games of golf, but most of the time it was cold and rainy or—in Eisenhower language—bridge weather.

Symington Due To Offer Farm Plan

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP) — Sen. Stuart Symington (D-Mo) told a nationwide farm organization today he will introduce a six-point farm bill when Congress meets again in January.

The purpose of the bill, he told the National Grange, is to bring the "family-sized farmer" a return on his investment comparable to returns received in other segments of the economy.

"Since 1952," the senator told delegates to the Grange's 93rd annual convention, "while total national income has increased one third, farm income has declined one third." He added "the theory behind the farm policy of the present administration is that lower price supports will reduce production." And, he said, "we know that the program has been bad for the farmers, bad for the consumers and bad for the taxpayers."

Montana Is Socked In By Sweeping Blizzard

Artist Kills Family, Self Wife, 2 Children Beaten to Death

PEBBLE BEACH, Calif. (AP) — A little girl thought her neighbors' pets looked hungry. She and her father investigated and found a family of four dead. The coroner calls it a triple murder and suicide.

Dead in their beds, wearing night clothes were Bette Lavine Gardner, 38, and her daughters, Randy Lee, 12, and Diane, 8.

Each had been hit on the head with a two-pound sledge hammer. At the foot of Mrs. Gardner's bed was her husband, Charles Richard Gardner, 38, dressed in khakis and with a bullet wound in his right temple.

On the floor nearby was a .45 caliber service revolver. In a waste basket between the Gardners' twin beds was a bloody sledge hammer.

"I'd call it a triple murder and suicide," Coroner Christopher Hill Jr. said Wednesday after the bodies were found. "But it's a baffler. No notes. No explanation."

Papers in Gardner's home disclosed he had recently applied for a job as an art teacher in Wellington, New Zealand.

A prospectus he wrote describing himself gave no indication of desperation. But a letter from Gardner's brother, found in the house, expressed sympathy for severe headaches he had been having.

His only debts, Gardner wrote, were the payments on his $25,000 frame home near the Monterey Peninsula Country Club in Pebble Beach's beautiful Del Monte Forest.

Gardner, son of a former Orange County treasurer, described himself in the prospectus as an honor graduate of Whittier College, a World War II bomber pilot, a founder of the Junior Toastmasters of America and a one-time writer for Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

Hill said he found an unpublished manuscript of Gardner's in the house. Titled "Fighting Quaker," it was a 1952 biography of the vice president, who is also a graduate of Whittier College. Pasted to the manuscript was a letter of appreciation from Nixon.

The bodies were discovered because Patricia McCaig, 12, thought the Gardners' dog and cat looked hungry. Then Patricia noticed newspapers and milk containers near their front door.

Grenade Blast Proves Fatal To Housewife

NEW YORK (AP) — A Staten Island housewife died today of injuries suffered in a mysterious explosion Tuesday night.

Death came to Concetta Giarletta, 41, as police sought to hunt down her slayer with a single clue—the handle of a hand grenade.

The woman's legs were amputated by physicians shortly after the explosion, and she underwent further surgery Wednesday for other injuries.

The kindly, ailing woman lost her legs in an explosion touched off when she lifted the garage door behind her house to let her husband drive the car in.

Police found the grenade handle—bearing a serial number—inside the shrapnel-perforated building.

Police, lacking a motive, speculated that Mrs. Giarletta might have been the victim of mistaken identity.

Her 50-year-old husband, Frank, an oil truck driver, said he knew of no enemy who would try to harm her or himself.

He was in the car eight feet away when the blast went off with a shattering crack heard a mile away. He was not hurt.

Education Boards Can Pose Problem

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — "A difficult and potentially dangerous condition" has been found by a survey team checking attitudes toward school boards.

Miss Jennie L. Davis of Cincinnati headed the team from the Ohio Education Assn. which checked the situation in Adams Township, Lucas County.

"Only the axe-grinders run (for school board)," one teacher commented to the survey team.

"It takes too much time to serve on the board . . ." a citizen commented.

The report indicated school unrest in Adams Twp. was directly related to the firing of seven teachers there last year. That action and other complaints about the school administration led to the three-day survey last April.

Parents ran to board members, teachers by-passed principals and the superintendent and students complained to anyone who would listen, the report said.

The basic cause of the complaints, the report stated, was the Adams school board's habitual interference in school administration, a job supposedly assigned to a superintendent.

One teacher commented: "I think the board is sincere, but it dwells on the picaresque and not the big problems—like upgrading the certification of teachers."

A feeling of disrespect for the board found in the Adams system, the report continued, "has many parallels in other school systems."

"Despite the growth of the school system . . . The board has been unable to forget the earlier years, when it literally performed the administrative functions. . . . The board still is trying to administer the system . . ." said the report

Welder's Torch Starts Fire In New Columbus Hospital

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Four persons suffered burns and 18 patients of one ward were evacuated today when fire broke out in the offices of Doctors Hospital here.

The fire, which sent smoke hundreds of feet into the air and visible in downtown Columbus, was caused by an accident during a repair job.

Three workmen were welding a copper pipe in a small space above a false ceiling of the first floor, and above the telephone switchboard room. Fumes from a can of adhesive material caught fire from a torch, the torch overturned and kept spreading the fire.

Eighteen children in a pediatric ward on the second floor, ranging from 6 to 16 years of age, were

Air Chaplain Urges Action By Churches

CINCINNATI (AP) — Capt. Marvin R. Johnson, assistant installation chaplain at Wright-Patterson Air Force Base, declared here today "the church must provide the moral leadership necessary to insure the victory of our national objectives."

"Liberty is a moral matter," Capt. Johnson told University of Cincinnati Reserve Officers' Training Corps cadets. The speech was part of the university's Religious Emphasis Week seminar.

Capt. Johnson asserted the four duties of church members in these days of national peril are:

1. Convince their fellow Americans that their country's ideals, convictions, and values have come from God.
2. Realize the clear issue that these ideals are engaged in a life and death struggle with Communism.
3. Actively and positively lead.
4. Recognize that moral and spiritual leadership is absolutely vital to victory.

Repair Ship Heads For Damaged Cable

SYDNEY, N.S. (AP) — A repair ship heads today for a spot 200 miles off Newfoundland where a transatlantic cable was damaged Monday, knocking out 36 telephone circuits from France and Germany.

Five cable breaks occurred in the same area last February, prompting an on-board investigation of a Soviet trawler found in the vicinity. It was believed, although never proved, that the trawler's deep-riding plows might have cut the cable accidentally.

Two U.S. Navy patrol planes began scouting the area Wednesday for any ships that might have caused the latest break. Poor visibility forced them back to their base at Argentina, Nfld.

Reds Make 'Monkeys' of U.S. Students

COLUMBIA, Mo. (AP) — Twelve young Soviets are visiting Columbia this week and "The Maneater," student newspaper at the University of Missouri, says they are making monkeys of American collegians.

"American student minds here met the Russians' minds and were defeated," the paper reported.

"The Maneater" said this was an example of exchanges between the Soviets and their hosts:

Typical American question: "Why does the Moscow government prevent the republics from seceding?"

Answer: "Why was the American Civil War fought?"

Silence.

The paper said American students can't discuss U.S. foreign policy intelligently or even the American system of government. "The Maneater" asked "Can we afford to let these students go home still laughing at the hotdog and marshmallow American student?"

18-Inch Snow Buries Helena

Cut Bank Records -2 Temperature

HELENA, Mont. (AP) — Mountains of drifting snow buried Montana from border to border today as the area's worst blizzard of the season swept across the Northern Plains states.

The snowfall let up gradually in western Montana through the morning, but drifts as high as car-tops had already piled up. Transportation was nearly paralyzed. Many schools closed.

Nearly 18 inches of snow—by far a record for any 24 hours—buried this capital city of 18,000, and more was falling at mid-morning.

Airline service was halted. Buses and trains continued to run, but some were as much as three hours behind schedule.

Cut Bank's 2-below zero was the coldest temperature in the nation during the night.

Howling gusts shattered plate glass windows in a Missoula department store and cut out street lights in the downtown section overnight.

Montanans, accustomed to rugged winter weather, launched an early morning battle to keep essential traffic and supplies moving. Isolated communities were believed to be well stocked with food and fuel and there were no immediate reports of unusual hardships.

One death was reported. Walter Hayes, 33, of Billings, was killed and two persons were injured in the collision of a car and truck near Laurel, Mont.

Heavy snow warnings were posted for parts of Nebraska and South Dakota and extreme northwest Iowa. Falls of four inches or more were indicated. Snow flurries flocked the Upper Great Lakes region and widely scattered showers were reported in Florida, Texas, Washington and in the Yuma, Ariz., area. Skies were generally clear to partly cloudy in other sections of the country.

Name-Calling In Labor Disputes Hit

BOSTON (AP) — Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell today asked for a halt to the "orgy of name-calling" and "hysteria of sloganeering" in labor-management relations.

In an address prepared for delivery to alumni of Boston University, Mitchell suggested that the attitudes of labor and management in the steel dispute and other industrial conflicts had been echoing outmoded slogans.

"The class war is over but too often the rhetoric lingers on," Mitchell said.

"Respected men on both sides utter in public the slogans and the battle cries of 50 years ago, until the relationship degenerates into an orgy of name-calling that shames them both, and that merely adds to the difficulty of communicating between them," he said.

At one point, Mitchell referred to the charge by "a prominent labor leader" that the Taft-Hartley injunction in the steel strike was used as "a political payoff to the steel companies that had contributed to the 1956 election." He called that an example of the "unprincipled political atmosphere" in which labor disputes now are fought.

The charge was made Monday by Emil Mazey, secretary-treasurer of the United Auto Workers.

More Anti-Vice Funds Needed

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Atty. Gen. Mark McElroy said today he needs more money to continue his gambling and vice investigations in Stark County.

Less than $2,000 remains of the $25,000 he received last August for the investigation asked by Gov. Michael V. DiSalle. McElroy indicated he would ask the State Controlling Board for more money.

The attorney general reported that activities had been quiet in the county since his investigators moved in, but said developments could be expected within weeks.

Pupils Change Their Views On Honesty

FREEHOLD, N.J. (AP) — Is honesty the best policy? A high school class here evidently thinks so now.

The students at Freehold Regional High School were taught a lesson by their American history teacher, Melvin C. Willett.

The class held a discussion on rigged television quiz shows, and in the words of Willett: "As we discussed the subject, I became perturbed at the attitude of most of the students. They felt that because of the big money prizes involved and because it was not illegal, it was all right for quiz contestants to accept answers."

So Willett made up a real whopper of an American history quiz. He hinted to nine of the students that he wouldn't mind if they looked at the answers lying on his desk. They did.

The nine got perfect scores. Willett flunked the rest of the class. Then Willett revealed what he had done.

"They all objected violently," he said, "complaining about the unfairness of the situation. 'All right!'," I told them, "we will now have another discussion on rigged TV quiz shows!"

Governor of Ohio in the statewide primary election of 1958. John W. Donahy was nominated in this race, and was subsequently elected Lt. Governor in the November election of last year.

Smith is a member of the Madison Grange, the Scioto County Pomona Grange and the Council of the Ohio Farm Bureau. He owns a stock and dairy farm in Scioto County.

He is of the opinion that the farmer needs more and better representation in the Congress. "Indicative of this," states Mr. Smith, "is the present plight of the farmer, who pays more for everything that he purchases, and receives less for what he sells."

"The House Agriculture Committee recently reported that retail food costs have risen 20 per cent in the last 10 years, but the prices received by farmers have fallen 8 per cent," Smith said.

Montana Is Socked In By Sweeping Blizzard

Artist Kills Family, Self

Wife, 2 Children Beaten to Death

PEBBLE BEACH, Calif. (AP) — A little girl thought her neighbors' pets looked hungry. She and her father investigated and found a family of four dead. The coroner calls it a triple murder and suicide.

Dead in their beds, wearing night clothes were Bette Lavine Gardner, 38, and her daughters, Randy Lee, 12, and Diane, 8.

Each had been hit on the head with a two-pound sledge hammer. At the foot of Mrs. Gardner's bed was her husband, Charles Richard Gardner, 38, dressed in khakis and with a bullet wound in his right temple.

On the floor nearby was a .45 caliber service revolver. In a waste basket between the Gardner's twin beds was a bloody sledge hammer.

"I'd call it a triple murder and suicide," Coroner Christopher Hill Jr. said Wednesday after the bodies were found. "But it's a baffler. No notes. No explanation."

Papers in Gardner's home disclosed he had recently applied for a job as an art teacher in Wellington, New Zealand.

A prospectus he wrote describing himself gave no indication of desperation. But a letter from Gardner's brother, found in the house, expressed sympathy for severe headaches he had been having.

His only debts, Gardner wrote, were the payments on his $25,000 frame home near the Monterey Peninsula Country Club in Pebble Beach's beautiful Del Monte Forest.

Gardner, son of a former Orange County treasurer, described himself in the prospectus as an honor graduate of Whittier College, a World War II bomber pilot, a founder of the Junior Toastmasters of America and a one-time writer for Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

Hill said he found an unpublished manuscript of Gardner's in the house. Titled "Fighting Quaker," it was a 1952 biography of the vice president, who is also a graduate of Whittier College. The bodies were discovered because Patricia McCaig, 12, thought the Gardner's dog and cat looked hungry. Then Patricia noticed newspapers and milk containers near their front door.

Grenade Blast Proves Fatal To Housewife

NEW YORK (AP) — A Staten Island housewife died today of injuries suffered in a mysterious explosion Tuesday night.

Death came to Concetta Giarletta, 41, as police sought to hunt down her slayer with a single clue—the handle of a hand grenade.

The woman's legs were amputated by physicians shortly after the explosion, and she underwent further surgery Wednesday for other injuries.

The kindly, ailing woman lost her legs in an explosion touched off when she lifted the garage door behind her house to let her husband drive the car in.

Police found the grenade handle—bearing a serial number—inside the shrapnel-packed building.

Police, lacking a motive, speculated that Mrs. Giarletta might have been the victim of mistaken identity.

Her 50-year-old husband, Frank, an oil truck driver, said he knew of no enemy who would try to harm her or himself.

He was in the car eight feet away when the blast went off with a shattering crack heard a mile away. He was not hurt.

Education Boards Can Pose Problem

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — "A difficult and potentially dangerous condition" has been found by a survey team checking attitudes toward school boards.

Miss Jennie L. Davis of Cincinnati headed the team from the Ohio Education Assn., which checked the situation in Adams Township, Lucas County.

"Only the axe-grinders run (for school board)," one teacher commented to the survey team: "It takes too much time to serve on the board..." a citizen commented.

The report indicated school unrest in Adams Twp. was directly related to the firing of seven teachers there last year. That action and other complaints about the school administration led to the three-day survey last April.

Parents ran to board members, teachers by-passed principals and the superintendent and students complained to anyone who would listen, the report said.

The basic cause of the complaints, the report stated, was the Adams school board's habitual interference in school administration, a job supposedly assigned to a superintendent.

One teacher commented: "I think the board is sincere, but it dwells on the picaresque and not the big problems—like upgrading the certification of teachers."

A feeling of disrespect for the board found in the Adams system, the report continued, "has many parallels in other school systems."

"Despite the growth of the school system... the board has been unable to forget the earlier years when it literally performed the administrative functions..." The board still is trying to administer the system... said the report.

Welder's Torch Starts Fire In New Columbus Hospital

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Four persons suffered burns and 18 patients of one ward were evacuated today when fire broke out in the offices of Doctors Hospital here.

The fire, which sent smoke hundreds of feet into the air and visible in downtown Columbus, was caused by an accident during a repair job.

Three workmen were welding a

Eighteen children in a pediatric ward on the second floor, ranging from 6 to 16 years of age, were

Air Chaplain Urges Action By Churches

CINCINNATI (AP) — Capt. Merwin R. Johnson, assistant installation chaplain at Wright-Patterson Air Force Base, declared here today "the church must provide the moral leadership necessary to insure the victory of our national objectives."

"Liberty is a moral matter," Capt. Johnson told University of Cincinnati Reserve Officers' Training Corps cadets. The speech was part of the university's Religious Emphasis Week seminar.

Capt. Johnson asserted the four duties of church members in these days of national peril are:

1. Convince their fellow Americans that their country's ideals, convictions, and values have come from God.
2. Realize the clear issue that these ideals are engaged in a life and death struggle with Communism.
3. Actively and positively lead.
4. Recognize that moral and spiritual leadership is absolutely vital to victory.

Repair Ship Heads For Damaged Cable

SYDNEY, N.S. (AP) — A repair ship heads today for a spot 200 miles off Newfoundland where a transatlantic cable was damaged Monday, knocking out 36 telephone circuits from France and Germany.

Five cable breaks occurred in the same area last February, prompting an on-board investigation of a Soviet trawler found in the vicinity. It was believed, although never proved, that the trawler's deep-riding plows might have cut the cable accidentally.

Two U.S. Navy patrol planes began scouting the area Wednesday for any ships that might have caused the latest break. Poor visibility forced them back to their base at Argentina, Nfld.

Ruling Filipino Party Gaining Lead in Poll

MANILA (AP) — President Carlos P. Garcia's ruling Nacionalista Party forged out front today in the Philippines' hard-fought Senate elections with two-thirds of the vote counted.

Strong support from rural districts overcame early leads piled up by some opposition candidates in the cities.

18-Inch Snow Buries Helena

Cut Bank Records -2 Temperature

HELENA, Mont. (AP) — Mountains of drifting snow buried Montana from border to border today as the area's worst blizzard of the season swept across the Northern Plains states.

The snowfall let up gradually in western Montana through the morning, but drifts as high as car-tops had already piled up. Transportation was nearly paralyzed. Many schools closed.

Nearly 18 inches of snow—by far a record for any 24 hours—buried this capital city of 18,000, and more was falling at mid-morning.

Airline service was halted. Buses and trains continued to run, but some were as much as three hours behind schedule.

Cut Bank's 2-below zero was the coldest temperature in the nation during the night.

Howling gusts shattered plate glass windows in a Missoula department store and cut out street lights in the downtown section overnight.

Montanans, accustomed to rugged winter weather, launched an early morning battle to keep essential traffic and supplies moving. Isolated communities were believed to be well stocked with food and fuel and there were no immediate reports of unusual hardships.

One death was reported. Walter Hayes, 33, of Billings, was killed and two persons were injured in the collision of a car and truck near Laurel, Mont.

Heavy snow warnings were posted for parts of Nebraska and South Dakota and extreme northwest Iowa. Falls of four inches or more were indicated. Snow flurries flecked the Upper Great Lakes region and widely scattered showers were reported in Florida, Texas, Washington and in the Yuma, Ariz., area. Skies were generally clear to partly cloudy in other sections of the country.

Name-Calling In Labor Disputes Hit

BOSTON (AP) — Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell today asked for a halt to the "orgy of name-calling" and "hysteria of sloganeering" in labor-management relations.

In an address prepared for delivery to alumni of Boston University, Mitchell suggested that the attitudes of labor and management in the steel dispute and other industrial conflicts had been echoing outmoded slogans.

"The class war is over but too often the rhetoric lingers on," Mitchell said.

"Respected men on both sides utter in public the slogans and the battle cries of 50 years ago, until the relationship degenerates into an orgy of name-calling that shames them both, and that merely adds to the difficulty of communicating between them," he said.

At one point, Mitchell referred to the charge by "a prominent labor leader" that the Taft-Hartley injunction in the steel strike was used as "a political payoff to the steel companies that had contributed to the 1956 election." He called that an example of the "unprincipled political atmosphere" in which labor disputes now are fought.

The charge was made Monday by Emil Mazey, secretary-treasurer of the United Auto Workers.

More Anti-Vice Funds Needed

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Atty. Gen. Mark McElroy said today he needs more money to continue his gambling and vice investigations in Stark County.

Less than $2,000 remains of the $25,000 he received last August for the investigation asked by Gov. Michael V. DiSalle. McElroy indicated he would ask the State Controlling Board for more money.

The attorney general reported that activities had been quiet in the county since his investigators moved in, but said developments could be expected within weeks.

Ashville Senior Class Play Entitled "Room for One More"

The seniors of Ashville High School have chosen a comedy-drama for their class play entitled, "Room For One More."

In this production the combination of humor and sadness will have the audience laughing one minute and misty-eyed the next.

It is a heartwarming story of the Rose family who will never say no to a homeless child. It is often difficult to tell their own children from the strangers they take in.

Jimmy John, a crippled boy from Brooklyn, who has become mixed up with the wrong crowds, comes to stay at the "Pumpkin Shell," their summer cottage.

IN THE midst of their happy but hectic life, tragedy strikes. They all fear the "Pumpkin Shell" might have to be sold, so every member of the family pitches in to keep it going.

The dramatic conclusion will delight and enchant each person seeing the play.

Mothers, played by Mary Lockwood, has a heart big enough for every child. It is she who persuades Poppy, Jack Lemon, to adopt Janey, Joy Trone.

After Poppy says there is still room for one more, Janey has the problem of adjustment. This is made somewhat easier by Trot, Teenie, and Joey, the children of Mother and Poppy.

Trot, portrayed by Joyce Speakman, has Janey help her do her hair while Teenie, characterized by Carol Pritchard, want her to help with her various hobbies such as garter snakes. If Janey needs medical attention she can count on Joey, Tom Bausum, who aspires to be a doctor.

While Janey is getting situated into the Rose family life, Jimmy John appears on the scene. This lad, acted by Mike Cummins, has the preconceived idea that he is inferior and is therefore against everyone in the world.

IF MOTHER gets depressed, she can always count on Mrs. Biddle, Patty Frazier, to help her out. She is an understanding neighbor who is certain that she may one day be indirectly connected with the Rose family.

Betty, her daughter, is intent on marrying Joey after he finishes medical school. George, her brother, is fond of Jamey and tries to show it. The portrayals of these persons are done by Donna Kimble and Ralph Metz.

A lady from the children's home, Mrs. Winston, acted by Bonnie Brown, is of a cynical nature and cannot understand Mother and Poppy's motives.

To add a touch of excitement a woman almost drowns and is saved by valiant Janey. Carol Baum plays the part of the rescued woman. Benis Lutz is directing the production.

Committee chairmen are ticket-carole Hickman and Rosan McGlone; advertising - Pamela Dixon; programs-Patty Frazier;

Stage hands, Marion Leatherwood and Eugene Founds; make-up - Pat Aldenderfer and promoters - Pamela Dixon, Bonnie Bainter and Wilma Rathburn.

The play will be presented at 8 p. m. Tuesday in the Ashville school auditorium.

O-ville Man Makes Voyage To Florida

A Circleville resident and three friends recently completed an exciting 16-day trip down the Ohio and Mississippi Rivers to New Orleans, La., through intercoastal waters, Lake Borge, the Mississippi Sound and finally the Gulf waters to Sarasota, Fla.

George L. Crites, 432 S. Court St., and his friends Gus Schell, Ernie Wilson and Chris Lambrecht recently completed a 2,155-mile trip in the Martini III, a 28-foot twin-screw Owens cruiser powered by a pair of 220 horsepower Corvette engines.

Crites was the skipper while Lambrecht did the navigation. Schell acted as cook and navigator and Wilson was the engineer, part-time cook and motor engineer plus handling the maps and lookout duties.

All four, Schell, Lambrecht and Wilson, Columbus businessmen, are former commodores at the Buckeye Lake Yacht Club.

AMONG THEIR stops was one at Madison, Ind., for a visit with Crites' brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Yunkers.

The Martini III average 1.4 miles per gallon of gas. Shortest one-day hop was 55 miles; longest was 189 miles; gasoline and oil added to $565; bill for food and entertainment was $306.

The crew had to pass through 18 locks on the Ohio River but found it more beautiful than the Mississippi which was full of "debris and eddies plus being muddy."

The four men flew home from Sarasota after spending a few days in Florida at the conclusion of their trip.

Welcome New Synhtetic

Production of a synthetic penicillin sufficiently dependable for medical use has rewarded more than 15 years of research by American scientists.

The new drug, syncillin, may be taken orally. But, more important, it is reported to be capable of destroying bacteria that have escaped, or developed resistance to, penicillin.

The germ killer which Britain's Sir Andrew Fleming extracted from mold had proved so effective in the early 1940s that hopes were raised for the obliteration of certain bacterial diseases. But over the years the bacteria which previously had succumbed to penicillin developed through the natural process of mutation a means of survival.

The synthetic product not only has proved more powerful than its natural predecessor, but it also can be varied to attack specific germs. This, in the words of Dr. Ernest B. Chain, who shared a Nobel Prize for his work with penicillin, opens a new era from which "we can look ahead with bright new optimism."

Don't Say This to a Patient

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP) — Remarks that hospital patients get tired of hearing—or overhearing: "Just between us, Joe, why don't you quit stalling and get back to work?" "Is that all the bigger you were? My cousin had gallstones as big as hen's eggs."

"Now, remember when we get inside—no matter how he looks, tell him he never looked better in his life."

Khrush Attacks Reuther

By George Sokolsky

It is a truism in the Communist movement that a Bolshevik hates a Menshevik worse than he does a capitalist. What we witnessed during Khrushchev's visit to the United States was that he got along swimmingly with the capitalists who took him to their hearts but when he sat down with labor leaders, including socialists, they gave him what for in tough language and he answered back and it all sounded like an old-time Union Square row.

Undoubtedly Khrushchev's most unpleasant experience in the United States was his meeting with these labor leaders and he is reciprocating by denouncing Walter Reuther and his brother, Victor, both of whom once were employed in a factory in Soviet Russia.

He accuses Walter Reuther of having a Russian wife which, apart from the nasty moral implications, makes a bigamist of Walter Reuther. It is so characteristic of the Bolsheviks that when they want to destroy a man, they try to make everybody suffer who is associated with him.

It is a cruel thing to say about a man that he deserted his wife and married another and Reuther, of course, denies the allegation. One more readily believes Reuther than Khrushchev because Khrushchev has lied on many occasions in this country. I will cite an example of the most artful dodging. Eric Ridder of the New York Journal of Commerce gave a dinner to Khrushchev, who, on this occasion, laid himself open to questions. He was asked by Philip Cortney:

"During his interview with Eric Ridder, Mr. Khrushchev said that Russia wishes to buy all the goods she needs and to sell the merchandise she has. But trade and settlements are always done in gold. Unfortunately, the Soviet Union does not publish figures on gold production and reserves. We are alarmed by this because all the other countries publish these figures. Lack of such data concerning the Soviet Union undermines confidence and worries us."

To this Nikita Khrushchev replied: "...But I do not understand to what extent and why the American business quarters are worried by the fact that we do not publish figures on gold reserves. In general, I do not understand what gold has to do with it. I must say we do not prize gold too highly. I could cite in this connection the words of V. I. Lenin on gold, but I do not think it quite appropriate at a dinner table. (Laughter)"

If Khrushchev were an ignorant man, it would be possible to say that he did not know, but actually Soviet Russia has been trading in gold on the London and Zurich markets with steady regularity. Furthermore Khrushchev knows that the United States purchases this gold at the uniform price of $35 an ounce. It does not matter what Lenin said about gold; what does matter is that Khrushchev is in the gold business when he pretends not to be.

Similarly, on this occasion, Khrushchev said: "My dear tradesmen, you have mixed everything up—trade, economy; yes, and politics. You speak of things that do not conform to all with any laws of political economy. When you were not allowed to buy German goods you were in a state of war with Germany. But we are not warring with you now!"

"I am confident that if shops were opened to sell Soviet goods, you people would buy them with pleasure. I know that you do not like the Russian revolution, as you choose to call the great October Socialist Revolution, but you do like Russian caviar, for instance, and as I have noticed, are ready to eat it in rather large quantities. (Laughter)"

This was dodging the issue altogether. The point was made that Americans like to know where the goods they buy come from. He could not have answered Reuther that way because Reuther would have understood that Khrushchev was kidding. He would have said a knockout!" "Before they take you upstairs for the operation I'd like to cheer you up on one point. I went over your life insurance policy with your wife last night, and everything seems to be okay."

"Hi, Joe! Seen any interesting bedpans lately?"

"Your friends can bring you all the bourbon they want, but you can't drink it here."

"Don't worry about your job. The boss is letting Fred do your work in his spare time."

"You know I admire your wife. Even in a period of trouble such as this, she can still go out and have a good time."

demand that Khrushchev become serious; that he cut out the horseplay and that he deal with the questions asked responsibly. Khrushchev is undoubtedly afraid of the labor unions of this country. He is not afraid of the bankers and manufacturers. He believes that he can throw the American businessmen a contract and buy his principles; he has no way to win the labor unions.

It is for this reason that he smears Walter Reuther with a brutality to which no American opponent of the C.I.O. would sink.

How To Prepare Meat, Fish

By Herman N. Bundesen, M.D.

Ever look a dead fish in the eye? Well, you should the next time you go to the store to buy fresh fish.

If the eyes are bright, the scales cling and the flesh is firm and elastic, then it's a good bet that the fish is fresh and will make a good meal.

Now, I'm not much of a cook. I have readily admitted this many times in the past. Still, I'd like to pass on a few tips about the value of meat, fish and poultry to your general health, and a couple of hints about buying, storing and cooking them.

As I have often emphasized, meat, fish, poultry and eggs, too, are body builders. I suggest that everyone have at least two servings of these foods daily.

When I speak of meat, I mean lean meat, and a serving should be a minimum of two ounces after cooking. Don't count the fat or bones.

These foods are excellent sources of protein, the substance all of us need for building strong muscles.

Iron, which the red blood cells need, is found abundantly in most meat and shell fish. Liver, particularly, is rich in iron.

You don't have to buy the most expensive cuts of meat. The cuts which are in less demand generally are less expensive. And when cooked properly they are just as flavorful and just as nourishing.

Often you will find that a larger cut of meat, which can be cut into portions and served at several meals, will be a better buy than purchasing individual smaller cuts.

Fresh meat, fish and poultry should be stored loosely - covered in refrigerator. Frozen foods should be kept at a temperature of zero or below. Once frozen foods have thawed, use them as quickly as possible. Don't refreeze them.

Meat, fish or poultry that is already cooked should be wrapped well and stored in the refrigerator.

These foods should be cooked at low or moderate temperature. Not only will this save the flavor, but it will also preserve the food value. People who know far more about the subject than I, tell me that roasting should be done at 300 to 350 degrees.

Less tender cuts of meat should be cooked in liquid below the boiling point and fish should be cooked only until it flakes with a fork.

Question and Answer

Mrs. J. B.: Each morning when I wake up my tongue is coated. As the day goes, it wears off. What causes this, as I feel very good?

Answer: Coated tongue may be due to sleeping with the mouth open, sinus trouble, digestive disturbance or some local trouble in the mouth.

An examination by your doctor may determine the cause.

And Now Midwest Studies Developing Water Shortage

Editor's Note: Following is the second in a series of three articles dealing with the nation's water problem.

CHICAGO (AP) — The farmer, his leathery face streaked with dust and perspiration, turned the faucet handle at the barn water trough. The sun was scorching and his hogs were hot and thirsty. The faucet gave a dribble, a wet gurgle and then nothing.

The farmer hurried into the house to the kitchen sink. No water there, either.

Alarmed now, he charged outside to the pump house. The gasoline engine was chugging full force. He ran the back of his hand against his bearded forehead.

"It's dry," he mumbled to himself. "The well has gone dry."

In town, a housewife turned on her bathroom shower. A trickle of muddy water dripped from the outlet. She fiddled with the handle.

At the town's only factory, the co-owners went into a worried huddle with their superintendent. Why had this happened? Water, like air, was something you took for granted in the Midwest.

But this was a drought year in the early 1950s. The farmer, the housewife and the factory owners had just received their first hand lesson: You don't always get water by turning on the faucet.

Generally ample rains in the Midwest in recent years have eased or removed many of the water shortage problems associated with drought. But expanding populations and soaring industrial use of water have created serious long-range problems for some localities.

In northeast Ohio, for example, where one-third of the state's population lives, wells are drying up. Experts say residents will have to pipe water from Lake Erie to meet future needs.

The Iowa Legislature in 1957 passed a law requiring that industry and farmers needing water for irrigation first must obtain permits from the State Water Board.

Even a city such as Milwaukee, which overlooks the deep, blue waters of Lake Michigan, has a problem. The city and its environs are outgrowing a water distribution system that once was adequate.

Fortunately for most of the Midwest, experts say, water sources are ample to meet any emergency. The area abounds in lakes, rivers and streams. The problem, and it entails considerable outlay of funds, is to deliver the supply to the right place when it is needed.

But one fact stands out when current Midwest trends are projected into the future. If more and more wells are drilled into reservoirs of underground water to satisfy expanding populations and new industries, nature will not be able to keep up. When and where it falls behind, as is now happening in some sections, communities will have to turn to the region's abundant surface water in lakes and rivers for their supply.

That means pipelines or aqueducts—and higher water bills.

TV Prober Sees No Wrong In Selling Tale on Inquiry

WASHINGTON (AP)—An investigator for a House subcommittee that exposed rigging of TV quiz shows said today he sees nothing improper in writing a magazine article about the inquiry and being paid for it.

The investigator, Richard N. Goodwin, declined to say how much he was paid by Life magazine for his story of the inquiry. "I refused to let them use the title 'The Inside Story,'" Goodwin said. "I did not want to give the impression that any special inside information was being made available. Anybody who sat through the hearings could have put a similar story together."

He disagreed with criticism suggesting a similarity between a committee member using his special position for profit and quiz contestants being provided with special information to enable them to win.

Goodwin said he had obtained permission from the chairman, Oren Harris (D-Ark), to write the story and that it was read by Robert W. Lishman, chief counsel for the subcommittee before it was sent to Life. Lishman was not available for comment.

In the article, Goodwin said the man Charles Van Doren ousted on the rigged TV quiz show "Twenty-One" conducted a crusade to expose Van Doren as a fraud.

The ousted contestant, Herbert Stempel, has testified he was ordered by the show's producers to lose to Van Doren. Stempel himself had won $49,000.

Goodwin wrote that Stempel was infuriated by Van Doren's going on to win $129,000 and unearned nationwide fame as a great brain.

"Stempel embarked upon what he called a crusade for truth but which became a campaign to expose Van Doren and the entire fraudulent quiz show business," Goodwin said.

Goodwin said Stempel was one of the best sources of information the House subcommittee had in setting up the hearings that disclosed that the television quiz shows were shot through with fixing and fakery.

The climax for Stempel came last week, Goodwin said, when Van Doren finally confessed to the committee that he had been given all the answers in advance, as well as coaching on how to grimace and wipe sweat from his brow in the isolation booth.

"Stempel flew down from New York to watch him testify," Goodwin said. "He sat in a section of the caucus room where he could see Van Doren's face. His long campaign had come to a dramatic end: Phony quiz shows had been destroyed."

Goodwin added, "Stempel's feelings about 'Twenty-One' itself went deeper than his admittedly strong feelings about Van Doren. While he was on the show, Stempel was called 'the poor boy from Brooklyn' (he wasn't poor, and he was from Queens)."

"In his humble role he had to address the master of ceremonies as 'Mr. Barry.' Other contestants called him 'Jack'. Every week Stempel wore the same old suit and a shirt that was frayed around the collar. One night he decided to wear a good suit. After the show, producer Dan Enright said: 'You're not doing your homework, Herb.'"

Brooklyn was a city until it joined New York as a borough on Jan. 1, 1898.

Dear Abby...

By Abigail VanBuren

Take Bull by the Horns

DEAR ABBY: I am an old woman who is married to an old man with young ideas. He is 73 and has three women on the string. He was to a doctor and the doctor said he had the constitution of a horse. One of his sweethearts is the girl next door. She is 50 and has no brains.

We have children and grand-children and I am too old to start over. How old does a man have to get before he is too old to be wicked? I am tired of waiting for him to settle down.

OLD AND GRAY
DEAR O. AND G.: Eventually Father Time will blow the whistle on Mother Nature. When the doctor examines your husband again, ask him to include his head. If your husband is mentally as well as physically fit, then he obviously has a moral deficiency. Nothing straightens out an aging delinquent faster than the suggestion of "separate maintenance." Try it.

DEAR ABBY: I am at Fort Leonard Wood taking my basic training. As if that weren't bad enough, I have an aunt who keeps giving my address to strangers. She does this because she thinks I am lonely. I am NOT lonely. They get us up at 5:00 a. m. and by the end of the day I am so dead tired I have all I can do to get my shoes off and hit the sack. I know it's rude to ignore letters written by people who want to "cheer up" a serviceman. But, Abby, I don't even know these people and I haven't the time to correspond with them. How can I get my aunt to quit digging up "pen pals" for me without hurting her feelings?

DEAR BEAT: Where did you get the time to write to me? Dash off a "thank you" post card and tell them you'll write when you have more time. Save those addresses, Buster. You might find yourself on the Isle of Nothingsville, and a letter will look awfully good to you.

DEAR ABBY: I went out with a guy last Saturday night. He is 18 and I am 16. My mother says she doesn't want me going out with him any more. She has never met him, but she says he can't be much good because she knows his family and they are no good. When this guy took me out, he was very polite and didn't try any funny stuff. In fact, he acted a lot nicer than some boys I know who come from better families. My mother won't listen to me. She won't even meet this fellow. Don't you think she is being unfair to judge him by his family's reputation?

STUMPED
DEAR STUMPED: It is unfair to judge a person on anything other than his own conduct and record. But no mother can be blamed for trying to keep her daughter away from a boy whose family has a bad reputation. With two strikes against him, this boy will have to work doubly hard to establish himself as a solid citizen. Go along with your mother's decision (prejudiced as it is) until the lad proves by his own achievements that a rose can bloom in an onion patch.

What's your problem? For a personal reply write to ABBY, care of this paper. Enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Cleveland Cops Nab Store-Looting Gang

CLEVELAND (AP) — Cleveland police have arrested seven members of a gang—mostly teenagers—They say has taken thousands of dollars worth of loot from greater Cleveland stores in the last year.

Held in City Jail today are a 15-year-old boy, two 17-year-olds, two 18-year-olds and two men, 21. Three others already are in institutions—two in Boys' Industrial School and one in Ohio Reformatory—where they were sent for other offenses, police said.

Detectives Martin Lowry and Frank Day started the roundup Monday after one of the 17-year-olds was arrested while trying to sell a stolen revolver at an east side factory. Eleven other guns were recovered at homes of gang members, police said.

And Now Midwest Studies Developing Water Shortage

Editor's Note: Following is the second in a series of three articles dealing with the nation's water problem.

CHICAGO (AP) — The farmer, his leathery face streaked with dust and perspiration, turned the faucet handle at the barn water trough. The sun was scorching and his hogs were hot and thirsty. The faucet gave a dribble, a wet gurgle and then nothing.

The farmer hurried into the house to the kitchen sink. No water there, either.

Alarmed now, he charged outside to the pump house. The gasoline engine was chugging full force. He ran the back of his hand against his beaded forehead.

"It's dry," he mumbled to himself. "The well has gone dry."

In town, a housewife turned on her bathroom shower. A trickle of muddy water dripped from the outlet. She fiddled with the handle.

At the town's only factory, the co-owners went to a worried huddle with their superintendent. Why had this happened? Water, like air, was something you took for granted in the Midwest.

But this was a drought year in the early 1950s. The farmer, the housewife and the factory owners had just received their first hand lesson: You don't always get water by turning on the faucet.

Generally ample rains in the Midwest in recent years have eased or removed many of the water shortage problems associated with drought. But expanding populations and soaring industrial use of water have created serious long-range problems for some localities.

In northeast Ohio, for example, where one-third of the state's population lives, wells are drying up. Experts say residents will have to pipe water from Lake Erie to meet future needs.

The Iowa Legislature in 1957 passed a law requiring that industry and farmers needing water for irrigation first must obtain permits from the State Water Board.

Even a city such as Milwaukee, which overlooks the deep, blue waters of Lake Michigan, has a problem. The city and its environs are outgrowing a water distribution system that once was adequate.

Fortunately for most of the Midwest, experts say, water sources are ample to meet any emergency. The area abounds in lakes, rivers and streams. The problem, and it entails considerable outlay of funds, is to deliver the supply to the right place when it is needed.

But one fact stands out when current Midwestern trends are projected into the future. If more and more wells are drilled into reservoirs of underground water to satisfy expanding populations and new industries, nature will not be able to keep up. When and where it falls behind, as is now happening in some sections, communities will have to turn to the region's abundant surface water in lakes and rivers for their supply.

That means pipelines or aqueducts—and higher water bills.

TV Prober Sees No Wrong In Selling Tale on Inquiry

WASHINGTON (AP)—An investigator for a House subcommittee that exposed rigging of TV quiz shows said today he sees nothing improper in writing a magazine article about the inquiry and being paid for it.

The investigator, Richard N. Goodwin, declined to say how much he was paid by Life magazine for his story of the inquiry. "I refused to let them use the title 'The Inside Story,'" Goodwin said. "I did not want to give the impression that any special inside information was being made available. Anybody who sat through the hearings could have put a similar story together."

He disagreed with criticism suggesting a similarity between a committee member using his special position for profit and quiz contestants being provided with special information to enable them to win.

Goodwin said he had obtained permission from the chairman, Oren Harris (D-Ark), to write the story and that it was read by Robert W. Lishman, chief counsel for the subcommittee before it was sent to Life. Lishman was not available for comment.

In the article, Goodwin said the man Charles Van Doren ousted on the rigged TV quiz show "Twenty-One" conducted a crusade to expose Van Doren as a fraud.

The ousted contestant, Herbert Stempel, has testified he was ordered by the show's producers to lose to Van Doren. Stempel himself had won $49,000.

Goodwin wrote that Stempel was infuriated by Van Doren's going on to win $129,000 and unearned nationwide fame as a great brain.

"Stempel embarked upon what he called a crusade for truth but which became a campaign to expose Van Doren and the entire fraudulent quiz show business," Goodwin said.

Goodwin said Stempel was one of the best sources of information the House subcommittee had in setting up the hearings that disclosed that the television quiz shows were shot through with fixing and fakery.

The climax for Stempel came last week, Goodwin said, when Van Doren finally confessed to the committee that he had been given all the answers in advance, as well as coaching on how to grimace and wipe sweat from his brow in the isolation booth.

"Stempel flew down from New York to watch him testify," Goodwin said. "He sat in a section of the caucus room where he could see Van Doren's face. His long campaign had come to a dramatic end: Phony quiz shows had been destroyed."

Goodwin added, "Stempel's feelings about 'Twenty-One' itself went deeper than his admittedly strong feelings about Van Doren. While he was on the show, Stempel was called 'the poor boy from Brooklyn' (he wasn't poor, and he was from Queens)."

"In his humble role he had to address the master of ceremonies as 'Mr. Barry.' Other contestants called him 'Jack'. Every week Stempel wore the same old suit and a shirt that was frayed around the collar. One night he decided to wear a good suit. After the show, producer Dan Enright said: 'You're not doing your homework, Herb.'"

Brooklyn was a city until it joined New York as a borough on Jan. 1, 1898.

Dear Abby...

By Abigail VanBuren

Take Bull by the Horns

DEAR ABBY: I am an old woman who is married to an old man with young ideas. He is 73 and has three women on the string. He was to a doctor and the doctor said he had the constitution of a horse. One of his sweethearts is the girl next door. She is 50 and has no brains.

We have children and grandchildren and I am too old to start over. How old does a man have to get before he is too old to be wicked? I am tired of waiting for him to settle down.

OLD AND GRAY DEAR O. AND G.: Eventually Father Time will blow the whistle on Mother Nature. When the doctor examines your husband again, ask him to include his head. If your husband is mentally as well as physically fit, then he obviously has a moral deficiency. Nothing straightens out an aging delinquent faster than the suggestion of "separate maintenance." Try it.

DEAR ABBY: I am at Fort Leonard Wood taking my basic training. As if that weren't bad enough, I have an aunt who keeps giving my address to strangers. She does this because she thinks I am lonely. I am NOT lonely. They get us up at 5:00 a. m. and by the end of the day I am so dead tired I have all I can do to get my shoes off and hit the sack. I know it's rude to ignore letters written by people who want to "cheer up" a serviceman. But, Abby, I don't even know these people and I haven't the time to correspond with them. How can I get my aunt to quit digging up "pen pals" for me without hurting her feelings?

DEAR BEAT: Where did you get the time to write to me? Dash off a "thank you" post card and tell them you'll write when you have more time. Save those addresses, Buster. You might find yourself on the Isle of NOTHINGVILLE, and a letter will look awfully good to you.

DEAR ABBY: I went out with a guy last Saturday night. He is 18 and I am 16. My mother says she doesn't want me going out with him any more. She has never met him, but she says he can't be much good because she knows his family and they are no good. When this guy took me out, he was very polite and didn't try any funny stuff. In fact, he acted a lot nicer than some boys I know who come from better families. My mother won't listen to me. She won't even meet this fellow. Don't you think she is being unfair to judge him by his family's reputation?

STUMPED DEAR STUMPED: It is unfair to judge a person on anything other than his own conduct and record. But no mother can be blamed for trying to keep her daughter away from a boy whose family has a bad reputation. With two strikes against him, this boy will have to work doubly hard to establish himself as a solid citizen. Go along with your mother's decision (prejudiced as it is) until the lad proves by his own achievements that a rose can bloom in an onion patch.

What's your problem? For a personal reply write to ABBY, care of this paper. Enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Cleveland Cops Nab Store-Looting Gang

CLEVELAND (AP) — Cleveland police have arrested seven members of a gang—mostly teenagers—They say has taken thousands of dollars worth of loot from greater Cleveland stores in the last year.

Held in City Jail today are a 15-year-old boy, two 17-year-olds, two 18-year-olds and two men, 21. Three others already are in institutions—two in Boys' Industrial School and one in Ohio Reformatory—where they were sent for other offenses, police said.

Detectives Martin Lowry and Frank Day started the roundup Monday after one of the 17-year-olds was arrested while trying to sell a stolen revolver at an east side factory. Eleven other guns were recovered at homes of gang members, police said.

General Guilds Assist Hospital With Equipment

Alva Williamson, Berger Hospital Administrator, stated in a recent letter to the individual guilds that there were many unmet needs at Berger Hospital.

Among a few are bassinets, pediatric beds (cribs), operating room equipment, infant hand-hole incubator, electric ice cube maker and an electric frozen food cabinet.

He said that the General Guild purchased $2,500 worth of room air conditions and $500 was spent for installation, making a total of $3,000.

Services of the Berger Hospital Guilds has been of untold benefit and assistance to the hospital in its work and individual purchases. It is the hope of the governing board that the public will continue to support the hospital through Berger Hospital Guilds reported Mr. Williamson.

The Berger Hospital Guilds will hold its annual Christmas Bazaar from 10-6 p. m. tomorrow at the Armory.

Union Guild Makes Plans for Christmas Party

Members of the Union Guild met in the home of Mrs. J. P. Hays, Route 2, yesterday afternoon. Mrs. Marvin Routt was co-hostess.

Fifteen members and five guests, Mrs. Irvin Reid, Miss Mary Howard, Mrs. Lottie Kissell, Mrs. Lloyd Minor and Mrs. Eva Himrod, were present.

Mrs. A. L. Newlon, president, opened the business meeting with a reading entitled "Thanksgiving Psalm".

Plans were made for the Christmas party. Each member is to make a contribution for Christmas baskets for needy families. Also each member is to bring an article for the Orient State Hospital to the next meeting.

The Christmas party - meeting will be held December 9 in the home of Mrs. Georgia Anderson, Route 3. A gift exchange and revealing of mystery sisters will be held.

The guild held its monthly bazaar with Mrs. Wayne Fee as auctioneer.

More Mincemeat Is Needed for Country Store

The mincemeat committee of the Women of St. Philip's Episcopal Church is having to double its output of the highly popular home-made mincemeat.

So great has been the demand on advance orders that the stock already needs replenishing.

The mincemeat, along with other home-made goods, will be on sale at the traditional Country Store to be held at the parish house, Tuesday, November 24.

The women of the church made final plans for this event at the regular monthly meeting held in the parish house Wednesday evening. Mrs. Arthur Johnson, president, presided. Reports of the various committees were given.

The church beautification program is to begin without delay and women volunteers are to contact Mrs. Huber.

Following the business meeting, Mrs. John Dunlap Jr., gave a report of the Lambeth Conference of 1958 on the commemoration of heroes and saints in the Anglican Communion.

Group A To Meet Wednesday

Group A of the Presbyterian Church will hold its meeting at 2 p. m. Wednesday in the home of Mrs. Lawrence Thornton, 130 Logan St.

Mrs. Flowers Is President of Crusader Class

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Dale DeLong, 407 E. Mound St., was the scene of the Crusader Class meeting of Calvary EUB Church which was held Thursday evening.

Mrs. Willis Flowers was co-hostess. There were 11 members and two guests, the Rev. G. Niswender and Maria Rivero, present. Children present were Joyce Cook, Connie Flowers and Danny DeLong.

Mrs. Russel Archer gave devotions which ended with prayer. It was decided that the men of the class will work on the stable to complete the Christmas scene.

It was agreed upon that each meeting one member would bring an item to be auctioned. Herald Abney brought a baked good for this month's meeting.

The members voted to have each member make a Thanksgiving basket, giving canned goods and money from the class treasure to purchase a turkey for a worthy family.

New year books will be prepared by Mrs. Archer and Mrs. Donald Layton. The group decided to keep pumpkin recipes to be made into a booklet to be sold later. Anyone having a recipe may contact a member of the class.

An election of officers was held with Mrs. Willis Flowers, president; Mrs. Dale DeLong, vice-president; Mrs. Marion DeLong, secretary; and Mrs. Clark Zwyer, treasurer. Mrs. Swayer conducted games with prizes won by Evelyn DeLong and team No. 2.

While refreshments were being prepared Mrs. Archer and Mr. DeLong showed pictures and slides to the group.

More Mincemeat Is Needed for Country Store

The mincemeat committee of the Women of St. Philip's Episcopal Church is having to double its output of the highly popular home-made mincemeat.

So great has been the demand on advance orders that the stock already needs replenishing.

The mincemeat, along with other home-made goods, will be on sale at the traditional Country Store to be held at the parish house, Tuesday, November 24.

The women of the church made final plans for this event at the regular monthly meeting held in the parish house Wednesday evening. Mrs. Arthur Johnson, president, presided. Reports of the various committees were given.

The church beautification program is to begin without delay and women volunteers are to contact Mrs. Huber.

Following the business meeting, Mrs. John Dunlap Jr., gave a report of the Lambeth Conference of 1958 on the commemoration of heroes and saints in the Anglican Communion.

Group A To Meet Wednesday

Group A of the Presbyterian Church will hold its meeting at 2 p. m. Wednesday in the home of Mrs. Lawrence Thornton, 130 Logan St.

Eggs for breakfast? Take them out of the refrigerator the moment you wake up so they can warm up a bit at room temperature before you cook them.

Mrs. Flowers Is President of Crusader Class

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Dale DeLong, 407 E. Mound St., was the scene of the Crusader Class meeting of Calvary EUB Church which was held Thursday evening.

Mrs. Willis Flowers was co-hostess. There were 11 members and two guests, the Rev. G. Niswender and Maria Rivero, present. Children present were Joyce Cook, Connie Flowers and Danny DeLong.

Mrs. Russel Archer gave devotions which ended with prayer. It was decided that the men of the class will work on the stable to complete the Christmas scene.

It was agreed upon that each meeting one member would bring an item to be auctioned. Herald Abney brought a baked good for this month's meeting.

The members voted to have each member make a Thanksgiving basket, giving canned goods and money from the class treasure to purchase a turkey for a worthy family.

New year books will be prepared by Mrs. Archer and Mrs. Donald Layton. The group decided to keep pumpkin recipes to be made into a booklet to be sold later. Anyone having a recipe may contact a member of the class.

An election of officers was held with Mrs. Willis Flowers, president; Mrs. Dale DeLong, vice-president; Mrs. Marion DeLong, secretary; and Mrs. Clark Zwyer, treasurer. Mrs. Swayer conducted games with prizes won by Evelyn DeLong and team No. 2.

While refreshments were being prepared Mrs. Archer and Mr. DeLong showed pictures and slides to the group.

MRS. CHARLES RITTINGER

Ellen Hooks Is Bride of Mr. Rittinger

Mr. and Mrs. John Hooks, New Holland, are announcing the marriage of their daughter, Ellen Jane, to Mr. Charles Rittinger, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Rittinger, Route 2.

The bride is a 1958 graduate of Atlanta High School. Mr. Rittinger is a graduate of Williamsport High School and is engaged in farming with his father.

The couple are living with Mr. Rittinger's parents.

Make up a package of instant pudding with dry milk and water, instead of the usual whole fluid milk, and you'll save calories.

Sunday School To Sell Pecans

Mrs. Marion's Sunday School Class of the First Methodist Church met Tuesday evening in the home of Mrs. Forrest Brown, 314 N. Court St.

Co-hostesses were Mrs. Elmer Yates, Mrs. Edgar McClure and Miss Benedine Yates. Mrs. Yates was in charge of devotions using as her topic "Honoring Veterans".

Devotions closed with the Lord's Prayer.

The group decided to sell pecans as a class project. Contest winners were Mrs. David Goldschmidt and Mrs. Boyce Parks.

The next meeting will be held December 14th at Mrs. Gerald Crites' residence, Pickaway County, try Club.

Wall Street Honors Kids In Business

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Stock Exchange today honored a successful company with an 18 year old president.

Keith Funston, exchange president, made a presentation to Jeffrey L. Clark, Fort Wayne, Ind., for the most outstanding report to stockholders of a Junior Achievement company.

Clark is president of Spun-Al-Co., which manufactured and sold $3.172 worth of aluminum serving trays. It paid a dividend on each of its 365 shares outstanding, representing a 10 per cent return on investment.

Junior Achievement companies are organized each fall by high school students who sell stock, make and sell products and actually operate small scale businesses. The companies liquidate at the end of each year's program in May.

Sponsor of Spun-Al-Co was the Indiana Rod and Wire Division of Phelps Dodge Copper Corp.

Four other JA companies were honored for the excellence of their reports. Included was:

Stanley Reed Jr., 18, president of the Nine-Tenners of Middleton, Ohio, sponsored by Radio Station WFFB. Nine-tenners produced a radio program and sold time to local advertisers, grossing $4,410 and paying a 16 per cent return on investment.

The young people, visiting New York as guests of the exchange, spent the morning at the stock market. They lunched with Funston and other business leaders.

Panama Is Told Stop Picking Fight

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States has told Panama to stop trying to pick a fight.

The U. S. government is also trying to find out whether it is true that Panamanian police were ordered to stay away from the American Embassy when demonstrations were being made there Nov. 3 and 4.

The U. S. statement, given Tuesday to the Panamanian charge d'affaires, Arturo Morgan Morales, said Panama should end "inflammatory public allegations" arising out of the demonstrations. Panamanian extremists have been agitating for taking over the canal, which is operated by the United States in the Canal Zone it has rented "in perpetuity" from Panama.

1959 Corn Crop To Set Record

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture department estimated this year's corn crop at a record 4,402,476,000 bushels.

This figure is 26,678,000 bushels less than last month's official forecast of 4,429,154,000 bushels. It compares also with last year's big crop of 3,799,844,000 bushels and with the 10-year (1948-57) average of 3,251,064,000 bushels.

No new estimates were given for wheat and most other live stock feed grains. Final estimates for all crops will be given in a report set for Dec. 18.

The grain sorghum crop was reported at 588,539,000 bushels compared with 573,183,000 forecast last month, 614,845,000 produced last year and 213,109,000 for the 10-year average.

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Stock Exchange today honored a successful company with an 18 year old president.

Keith Funston, exchange president, made a presentation to Jeffrey L. Clark, Fort Wayne, Ind., for the most outstanding report to stockholders of a Junior Achievement company.

Clark is president of Spun-Al-Co., which manufactured and sold $3,172 worth of aluminum serving trays. It paid a dividend on each of its 365 shares outstanding, representing a 10 per cent return on investment.

Junior Achievement companies are organized each fall by high school students who sell stock, make and sell products and actually operate small scale businesses. The companies liquidate at the end of each year's program in May.

Sponsor of Spun-Al-Co was the Indiana Rod and Wire Division of Phelps Dodge Copper Corp.

Four other JA companies were honored for the excellence of their reports. Included was:

Stanley Reed Jr., 18, president of the Nine-Tenners of Middletown, Ohio, sponsored by Radio Station WFPB. Nine-tenners produced a radio program and sold time to local advertisers, grossing $4,410 and paying a 16 per cent return on investment.

The young people, visiting New York as guests of the exchange, spent the morning at the stock market. They lunched with Funston and other business leaders.

Panama Is Told
Stop Picking Fight

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States has told Panama to stop trying to pick a fight.

The U. S. government is also trying to find out whether it is true that Panamanian police were ordered to stay away from the American Embassy when demonstrations were being made there Nov. 3 and 4.

The U. S. statement, given Tuesday to the Panamanian charge d'affaires, Arturo Morgan-Morales, said Panama should end "inflammatory public allegations" arising out of the demonstrations. Panamanian extremists have been agitating for taking over the canal, which is operated by the United States in the Canal Zone it has rented "in perpetuity" from Panama.

Truitt Honored
In Columbus

It was "This is your Life" for Bill Truitt of South Solon Friday at the Southern Hotel, Columbus.

The program was an adaptation of the television show of the same name with the role of Ralph Edwards being played by the Ralston - Purina Co. of St. Louis, Mo.

Many friends, relatives and business associates honored Truitt on the occasion of 12 years selling Purina Feed and Sanitation products.

Those honoring him were Mr. and Mrs. Elden Brock, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Dement, his wife, Louise, and their two children, Belinda and Connie, all of South Solon.

HIS PARENTS, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Truitt, his aunt, Mrs. Frank Markley, grandmother, Mr. W. S. Davis, all of Mt. Sterling; Frank Carpenter of Springfield, his past and present employer, Jim Rudolph and Ed S. Beagle. Truitt received a gift certificate for a suit, a tape recording of the whole program and a beautiful engraved book with photographs.

Mrs. Ernest Truitt and Mrs. Louise Truitt received a white orchid and one dozen roses respectively.

1959 Corn Crop
To Set Record

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture department estimated this year's corn crop at a record 4,402,476,000 bushels.

This figure is 26,678,000 bushels less than last month's official forecast of 4,429,154,000 bushels. It compares also with last year's big crop of 3,799,844,000 bushels and with the 10-year (1948-57) average of 3,251,064,000 bushels.

No new estimates were given for wheat and most other live stock feed grains. Final estimates for all crops will be given in a report set for Dec. 18.

The grain sorghum crop was reported at 588,539,000 bushels compared with 573,183,000 forecast last month, 614,845,000 produced last year and 213,109,000 for the 10-year average.

Brown Picks Plum as His Leading QB

CLEVELAND (AP)—The long search by the Cleveland Browns for a starting quarterback appears over. Coach Paul Brown says he has found his man—Milt Plum.

Brown showed his confidence in Plum when he said Wednesday night that he won't be looking for a quarterback in the annual draft in Philadelphia at the end of the month. Cleveland has been shaky at quarterback since Otto Graham retired in 1956.

What impresses Brown most about the 24-year-old Plum is his ability to avoid interceptions. Only four of his aeriels have been picked off by enemy defenders this year.

"That's a vital factor to me," Brown said, adding:

"It gives me a chill when passes are intercepted."

"Milt is moving ahead in other ways, too. Now he does things that can come only with poise and experience."

"That was pointed up on one play against the (Philadelphia) Eagles. Our top two receivers were covered. So he looked right down the line and picked Billy Howton, the outlet man. It was a good job."

"Milt is a tenacious guy. He won't give up and he hates interceptions as much as I do."

Bald Eagle Wins Sprint

Also-Rans Involved In Rough Tactics

LAUREL, Md. (AP)—It took an international incident to give Bald Eagle his American name and it took an international horse race to make him world famous.

Bald Eagle, an American-bred 4-year-old gained world-wide acclaim Wednesday when he beat the equine prides of eight other nations in the roughly ridden $100,000 Washington D.C. International.

But for the Suez Canal closing which created international tension in 1956, the son of Nasrullah might have raced under the name of Nasser. Capt. Harry F. Guggenheim, owner of the Cain Hoy Stable, originally called the rugged bay colt after Egypt's Premier.

Bald Eagle won the Eighth International by a comfortable 2½ lengths over France's Midnight Sun while other contestants behind him knocked each other for a loop.

The jockeys on horses from Venezuela and Australia jolted each other from their seats about half way through the race.

Soviet jockey Nikolai Nasibov, up on Garnir, rode most of the way with a bloody nose and said, "This is not a race, it is more like a football game. They ride like they do not have brains."

Garnir finished fifth.
America's ace jockey of 28 years' riding experience, Eddie Arcaro, considered himself lucky for having avoided the banging around.

"It was the roughest I've ever seen, and I've ridden in a few of them," said Arcaro who finished fourth on France's Mi Carina.

The other U.S. entry and the betting favorite, Mrs. Herbert Herff's Tudor Era, came in third.

Bald Eagle escaped the scrambling by breaking second and staying there until with about half a mile to go jockey Manuel Ycaza, of Panama, saw Tudor Era tiring and took the lead.

Bald Eagle reeled off the 1½ mile in 2 minutes, 28 seconds. The previous fastest International was England's Wilwyn, 2:30 4-5, in the 1952 inaugural.

As the second choice, Bald Eagle returned $9.20, $5.20 and $3.80 in the $2 betting windows.

Preacher's Wife To Be Referee

AMES, Iowa (AP)—A minister's wife will have the last word in some Iowa high school basketball games this winter.

She will be the referee.

"My husband was wonderful when I suggested it to him," Mrs. Carol Ziegler says of her plans to officiate boys basketball games.

Her husband is assistant pastor of Collegiate Presbyterian at Iowa State University.

Mrs. Ziegler was an outstanding forward on the Olin High School girls basketball team in 1950-54.

Ohio Native Is Well-Liked As Chef of Anteater's Club

WASHINGTON (AP)—People who eat Russell Deremer's cooking rarely complain—even when he prepares something like kangaroo soup or fried rattlesnake. This is because Deremer specializes in gamy foods. Moreover, he cooks them only for the Anteaters Assn., a group of wild game fanciers who dine on exotic foods in a series of banquets every year.

A native of Marietta, Ohio, Deremer works regularly as chef for the National Zoological Park restaurant. Beginning this week he will be spreading out some huge—and sometimes weird—meals as special Anteater chef.

Roast buffalo meat was on Tuesday's menu, and Deremer expects to cook about 440 pounds of it during the coming month of weekly Anteater banquets.
But some of the delicacies of the past sound more exotic: Mukluk or whale blubber, potted hare, sea turtle steak, wild boar, caribou, and sardinian moufflon.
Ordinarily, he says, the Anteaters enjoy his cooking, except when the meat is tough.
That happened in the first or second year of the Anteaters' 15 years of banqueting, he says, when he had to cope with a big elk.

"He looked like a great big mule," he recalled. "He gave us a little trouble."
Surprisingly, Deremer says, he is usually able to find somebody with a recipe for cooking practically any animal.
An exception, he said, was the time he had to cook an iguana, a Central American lizard. He had to figure out that one by himself.
"It's a white meat. They call it South American chicken," he said. Asked if it tasted as good as chicken, he thought a second, then replied: "Well, no."

Brown Picks Plum as His Leading QB

CLEVELAND (AP)—The long search by the Cleveland Browns for a starting quarterback appears over. Coach Paul Brown says he has found his man—Milt Plum.

Brown showed his confidence in Plum when he said Wednesday night that he won't be looking for a quarterback in the annual draft in Philadelphia at the end of the month. Cleveland has been shaky at quarterback since Otto Graham retired in 1956.

What impresses Brown most about the 24-year-old Plum is his ability to avoid interceptions. Only four of his aeriels have been picked off by enemy defenders this year.

"That's a vital factor to me," Brown said, adding:

"It gives me a chill when passes are intercepted.

"Milt is moving ahead in other ways, too. Now he does things that can come only with poise and experience.

"That was pointed up on one play against the Philadelphia Eagles. Our top two receivers were covered. So he looked right down the line and picked Billy Howton, the outlet man. It was a good job.

"Milt is a tenacious guy. He won't give up and he hates interceptions as much as I do."

Bald Eagle Wins Sprint

Also-Rans Involved In Rough Tactics

LAUREL, Md. (AP)—It took an international incident to give Bald Eagle his American name and it took an international horse race to make him world famous.

Bald Eagle, an American-bred 4-year-old gained world-wide acclaim Wednesday when he beat the equine prides of eight other nations in the roughly ridden $100,000 Washington D.C. International.

But for the Suez Canal closing which created international tension in 1956, the son of Nasrullah might well have raced under the name of Nasser. Capt. Harry F. Guggenheim, owner of the Cain Hoy Stable, originally called the rugged bay colt after Egypt's Premier.

Bald Eagle won the Eighth International by a comfortable 2½ lengths over France's Midnight Sun while other contestants behind him knocked each other for a loop.

The jockeys on horses from Venezuela and Australia jolted each other from their seats about half way through the race.

Soviet jockey Nikolai Nasibov, up on Garnir, rode most of the way with a bloody nose and said, "This is not a race, it is more like a football game. They ride like they do not have brains." Garnir finished fifth.

America's ace jockey of 28 years' riding experience, Eddie Arcaro, considered himself lucky for having avoided the banging around.

"It was the roughest I've ever seen, and I've ridden in a few of them," said Arcaro who finished fourth on France's Mi Carina.

The other U.S. entry and the betting favorite, Mrs. Herbert Herff's Tudor Era, came in third. Bald Eagle escaped the scrambling by breaking second and staying there until with about half a mile to go jockey Manuel Ycaza, of Panama, saw Tudor Era tiring and took the lead.

Bald Eagle reeled off the ¼ mile in 2 minutes, 28 seconds. The previous fastest International was England's Wilwyn, 2:30 4-5, in the 1952 inaugural.

As the second choice, Bald Eagle returned $9.20, $5.20 and $3.80 in the $2 betting windows.

Preacher's Wife To Be Referee

AMES, Iowa (AP)—A minister's wife will have the last word in some Iowa high school basketball games this winter.

She will be the referee. "My husband was wonderful when I suggested it to him," Mrs. Carol Ziegler says of her plans to officiate boys basketball games.

Her husband is assistant pastor of Collegiate Presbyterian at Iowa State University.

Mrs. Ziegler was an outstanding forward on the Olin High School girls basketball team in 1950-54.

Pickaway County's Girls Physical Education Workshop will be held Monday at the local coliseum.

Approximately 450 girls from schools in the county will participate in the annual event. Volley ball will be a highlight of the day with 50 teams slated for action.

Two groups of volleyballers are scheduled. Group A will include 10 teams and Group B will have 40. Four games will be played at one time and a trophy will be awarded for each group.

The girls from Atlanta won both trophies last year. This year the trophies will pass on to the 1959 winners.

MRS. Patty Ogle of Monroe Twp. will serve as chairman of the special day, assisted by other physical education teachers of the county schools.

Officials said 17 student teachers from Ohio State University will officiate the volleyball games and lead in various games and folk dances during the day.

All participating will enjoy sack lunches at the noon hour.

Tigers Set Sights On Blue Lions

Alertness and aggressiveness have been the keynote for Circleville's grid Tigers who have been preparing diligently all week for Friday's all-important game with the invading Blue Lions of Washington C. H.

The Tigers are aware that they will meet a rugged and well-rounded outfit. The Blue Lions currently are riding all alone in second place in the South Central Ohio League, with the Tigers close behind.

For the first time in several games, the Tigers may be in peak shape for the crucial test with a traditional rival. Fans usually can expect to see a bitter struggle when the two teams meet and Friday night will be no exception.

The Circleville-Washington grid feud dates back many years, with both teams having their moments of glory as well as disappointment. Previous records and statistics usually are discarded when the two football machines meet.

WCH has taken the favored role, but the Tigers consider this a minor factor. The Blue Lions are big and fast, but the CHS force also has speed and plenty of determination.

The Tigers will bank heavily on the return of Left Half Gary Vandemark and Right Half Archie Ward to the lineup. The two speedy backs give Circleville a constant breakaway threat which has been proven in past games.

Fullback Larry Hannahs rapidly reached his peak in the last few games to establish himself as one of the most dangerous runners in the SCOL. The big fullback hits quick and can turn on the steam when he gets into the secondary.

Quarterback Dave Smith has unimpaired his passing arm in the last three games and has top receivers in Ends Jake Bailey, Dick Warner and Leo Moats.

Backfield replacement duty probably will fall on the shoulders of Freshman Garold Dade, Sophomores Pat Rooney and Gary Cook and Junior Chuck McDowell.

An attack of flu has struck several Tiger linemen this week, but they are expected to be ready by Friday night. Recovering are Guards Harold Arledge and Irving Ellis and Tackles Dan Leonhardt and Dave Huffer.

The Tigers will clash headon with such Blue Lion stalwarts as Halfbacks Dave Reno and Ron Shackelford, Fullback Gil Crouse and Quarterback Buddy Lynch.

The WCH line will be led by Tackles Ron Carter and Tim Kellogg, Guard Charles Pendergraft and Ends Aaron Foster and Cary Self.

A special snake dance and bon fire pep rally will be held at CHS tonight in advance of the important contest. The rally will start at 7:30 at the Corwin St. Playground.

Seven Area Basketball Games on Tap

Seven basketball games are on tap this weekend to offer diversion for sports fans who are awaiting court action after a long season of football.

Four games will be played tomorrow and three Saturday. Kingston goes after the tie-breaker when it travels to Bloomingburg to face an always rugged Madison Mills.

The Redskins are 1-1 on the season, dropping an overtime contest to Williamsport, 58-56, in a contest last Friday, and coming back with a spirited 74-54 victory over Monroe the following night.

Atlanta will be looking for its initial win after dropping its opener with neighboring Clarkburg 51-35. The Red Raiders invade Good Hope, usually a weak Fayette County squad.

JACKSON also is seeking a tie-breaker, hosting Monroe in a non-league encounter. The Wildcats need one more win to best last year's 1-6 slate.

The Indians have a 1-1 record with a win over New Holland, 63-58, and a sound defeat at the hands of Kingston. Jackson's lone win of the year was over the Bulldogs of New Holland, 60-43.

Williamsport travels to Unio to tomorrow and hosts New Holland Saturday. The Deers are favored to extend their string to three straight victories.

Unio, usually one of Ross County's powerhouses, is reported to be having troubles this year, giving Williamsport a chance to avenge last year's 63-44 loss.

Laurelville puts on the traveling togs Saturday to meet Carthage-Troy, an unknown five from Athens County. The Wildcats have a three-straight winning streak going.

Centralia plays host to undermanned and miniature Allensville, an outfit that Laurelville blasted, 75-56. The Bulldogs will be looking for their first win after dropping their opener to jinx Huntington, 59-53.

Last Year's Scores
Kingston 56; Madison Mills 55
Atlanta 75-50; Good Hope 36-58
Monroe 55-78; Jackson 45-75
Unio 63; Williamsport 44
Williamsport 62; New Holland 42
Centralia 60; Allensville 56

The Celtics scored only 19 points in the second period of Wednesday night's National Basketball Assn. game with Cincinnati. But they blasted in 132 in the other three and wound up with a season high in a 151-118 victory over the Royals.

With 41 points in the first period, 48 in the third and 43 in the fourth, the Celtics had an easy time protecting their one-game Eastern division lead over Philadelphia, which downed Detroit 119-105 in the league's other game.

Wilt Chamberlain again was the Philadelphia leader, scoring 41 points.

Boston, with Cincinnati's Jack Twyman in the midst of a 49-point night, pulled well away as Bill Sharman scored 15 points and Bob Cousy and Tom Heinsohn added 10 apiece in the third period. Sharman wound up with 32 points, Heinsohn with 22 and Cousy with 16.

Walt Dukes, a 7-footer, kept Detroit close to Philadelphia until he had to be rested because of excessive fouls midway in the third period. Then Chamberlain & Co. ran away, nailing the game with 12 straight points for an 80-63 lead.

Mare Upsets Battle Among Top Trotters

Charming Barbara
Cops Third Leg of
Classic in 1:58 Flat

By BOB MYERS

Associated Press Sports Writer

INGLEWOOD, Calif. (AP) —

Leave it to a lady—a lady horse, that is—to add confusion to a horse race.

The third leg of the $75,000

American Trotting Classic was run off Wednesday and a charming mare named Charming Barbara upended a field of six rival men horses.

Last year Charming Barbara

did much the same thing in sub-ducing her male rivals in two straight races. But her one victory in the three-leg series brought on complications.

It had been supposed that either of the winners of the first two legs would win the third leg. The favorite was Senator Frost, who came in first last week, or the French idol, Jamin, who took the first leg of the cup Oct. 24.

But as it turned out, driver Bill

Houghton and Charming Barbara

came in first in what might have been the payoff at Hollywood

Park.

Trader Horn was second, Jamin was a well-beaten third and Senator Frost was far back at sixth in the seven-horse race.

Under the rules of the Western

Harness Racing Assn., there would be a race-off between Jamin, Senator Frost and Charming Barbara.

But Jamin has a previous date to parade at Roosevelt Raceway in

New York tonight and fly back to Europe for an impending race

there.

As matters stand, Senator Frost and Charming Barbara will have a race between themselves at a date yet to be selected, with a special purse at stake.

Charming Barbara was held off

the pace Wednesday and came from almost last, winning after the two front-runners, Jamin and

Senator Frost, wore themselves down. Steamin' Demon, like the Senator an Ohio-owned horse, was never in contention and finished last.

The Demon is owned by George

VanCamp of Circleville while the Senator is owned by Wayne Galvin of Wilmington.

Time for the one-mile feature was 1:58, fastest race time this year. Previous fastest was 1:58-

4-5 by Senator Frost at Lexington,

Ky., Oct. 9.

It was a track record for Hollywood Park.

Charming Barbara returned

$35.40, $12.40 and $5.60.

3 Games Carded In Local Loop

Three games are scheduled in

Circleville Independent Basketball

play tonight at the local Coliseum.

The first game, at 7 p. m., cards

Williamsport vs Amanda; at 8 p. m.

it is Orient Farmers Exchange vs

River Oil of Chillicothe; at 9 p. m.

Veterans of Foreign Wars take on Barr's All-Stars.

The league started here last week, with Orient, VFW and River

Oil grabbing victories.

Circleville, Ohio

Tigers Set Sights On Blue Lions

Alertness and aggressiveness have been the keynote for Circleville's grid Tigers who have been preparing diligently all week for Friday's all-important game with the invading Blue Lions of Washington C. H.

The Tigers are aware that they will meet a rugged and well-rounded outfit. The Blue Lions currently are riding all alone in second place in the South Central Ohio League, with the Tigers close behind.

For the first time in several games, the Tigers may be in peak shape for the crucial test with a traditional rival. Fans usually can expect to see a bitter struggle when the two teams meet and Friday night will be no exception.

The Circleville-Washington grid feud dates back many years, with both teams having their moments of glory as well as disappointment. Previous records and statistics usually are discarded when the two football machines meet.

WCH has taken the favored role, but the Tigers consider this a minor factor. The Blue Lions are big and fast, but the CHS force also has speed and plenty of determination.

The Tigers will bank heavily on the return of Left Half Gary Vandemark and Right Half Archie Ward to the lineup. The two speedy backs give Circleville a constant breakaway threat which has been proven in past games.

Fullback Larry Hannahs rapidly reached his peak in the last few games to establish himself as one of the most dangerous runners in the SCOL. The big fullback hits quick and can turn on the steam when he gets into the secondary.

Quarterback Dave Smith has unlimbered his passing arm in the last three games and has top receivers in Ends Jake Bailey, Dick Warner and Leo Moats.

Backfield replacement duty probably will fall on the shoulders of Freshman Garold Dade, Sophomores Pat Rooney and Gary Cook and Junior Chuck McDowell.

An attack of flu has struck several Tiger linemen this week, but they are expected to be ready by Friday night. Recovering are Guards Harold Arledge and Irving Ellis and Tackles Dan Leonhardt and Dave Huffer.

The Tigers will clash headon with such Blue Lion stalwarts as Halfbacks Dave Reno and Ron Shackleford, Fullback Gil Crouse and Quarterback Buddy Lynch. The WCH line will be led by Tackles Ron Carter and T.J. Kellogg, Guard Charles Pendergraft and Ends Aaron Foster and Cary Self.

A special snake dance and bon fire pep rally will be held at CHS tonight in advance of the important contest. The rally will start at 7:30 at the Corwin St. Playground.

Seven Area Basketball Games on Tap

Seven basketball games are on tap this weekend to offer diversion for sports fans who are awaiting court action after a long season of football.

Four games will be played tomorrow and three Saturday. Kingston goes after the tiebreaker when it travels to Bloomingburg to face an always rugged Madison Mills.

The Redskins are 1-1 on the season, dropping an overtime contest to Williamsport, 58-56, in a contest last Friday, and coming back with a spirited 74-54 victory over Monroe the following night.

Atlanta will be looking for its initial win after dropping its opener with neighboring Clarksburg 51-35. The Red Raiders invade Good Hope, usually a weak Fayette County squad.

JACKSON also is seeking a tiebreaker, hosting Monroe in a non-league encounter. The Wildcats need one more win to best last year's 1-16 slate.

The Indians have a 1-1 record with a win over New Holland, 63-58, and a sound defeat at the hands of Kingston. Jackson's lone win of the year was over the Bulldogs of New Holland, 60-43.

Williamsport travels to Unioto tomorrow and hosts New Holland Saturday. The Deers are favored to extend their string to three straight victories.

Unioto, usually one of Ross County's powerhouses, is reported to be having troubles this year, giving Williamsport a chance to avenge last year's 63-44 loss.

Laurelville puts on the traveling togs Saturday to meet Carthage-Troy, an unknown five from Athens County. The Wildcats have a three-straight winning streak going.

Centralia plays host to undermanned and miniature Allensville, an outfit that Laurelville blasted, 75-56. The Bulldogs will be looking for their first win after dropping their opener to jinx Huntington, 59-53.

2 Iowa Stars Set Pace in Big Ten

CHICAGO (AP) — Iowa's Olen Treadway and Bob Jeter are hot on the scent of the Big Ten's statistical titles.

Treadway continues as the passing leader with 61 hits in 106 attempts for 641 yards and four touchdowns. This aerial burst also carries him to the total offense lead with a net 616 yards that includes a minus 25 rushing.

Jeter is the rushing leader with 394 yards in 60 trips for a 6.6 average.

Michigan State's versatile Dean Look threatens Treadway's lead in passing with 28-65 for 481 yards and six touchdowns, and in total offense with 501.

Fields Given Nod As Starting QB

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Jerry Fields, a junior, likely will be the starting quarterback here Saturday as the Buckeyes meet Iowa. Coach Woody Hayes said so Wednesday as his team drilled in a cold rain, getting ready for the game.

Tom Matte, who recently supplanted Fields as first-string quarterback, said his shoulder is still paining him. It was injured in last Saturday's 0-0 tie with Indiana.

Celtics Show Royals Their Fire Power

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The fire power of the Boston Celtics is such in pro basketball that they can "skip" a quarter and still roll up a score approaching record proportions.

The Celtics scored only 19 points in the second period of Wednesday night's National Basketball Assn. game with Cincinnati. But they blasted in 132 in the other three and wound up with a season high in a 151-118 victory over the Royals.

With 41 points in the first period, 48 in the third and 43 in the fourth, the Celtics had an easy time protecting their one-game Eastern division lead over Philadelphia, which downed Detroit 119-105 in the league's other game.

Wilt Chamberlain again was the Philadelphia leader, scoring 41 points. Boston, with Cincinnati's Jack Twyman in the midst of a 49-point night, pulled well away as Bill Sharman scored 15 points and Bob Cousy and Tom Heinsohn added 10 apiece in the third period. Sharman wound up with 32 points, Heinsohn with 22 and Cousy with 16.

Walt Dukes, a 7-footer, kept Detroit close to Philadelphia until he had to be rested because of excessive fouls midway in the third period. Then Chamberlain & Co. ran away, nailing the game with 12 straight points for an 80-63 lead.

Christianson, 25, joined General

DONALD CHRISTIANSON

Telephone last month and has undergone special training for the new sales post. He formerly was an account executive for General American Credits Corp., Columbus, his hometown.

The new salesman was graduated from North High School and attended Capital University, both in Columbus. He is a member of the Army National Guard's Combat Support Company, 166th Battle Group, Columbus.

In his new job, he will contact telephone business customers in connection with General Telephone's new sales program which was launched last month. Communities he will serve, besides Circleville, are Ashville, Laurelville and Williamsport.

Ohio Man Caught In Land Sale Fraud

NEWARK, N. J. (AP)—Police have arrested two men here on a charge of conspiring to sell land on which they had no claim to an Ohio man.

Charles Gould, 51, of Miami Beach, Fla., Tuesday was held in $2,500 bond and Richard Falk Vidavar, 51, of New York was held in $5,000 bond on the charge.

Police said they leased purported oil-bearing lands in New Mexico to Herman H. King, an insurance man from Sandusky, Ohio, for $120,000. They didn't have title to one parcel of the land, police said.

A British miner, Thomas Riley, won $585,421 on a 60 cent football pool bet in 1958.

Laurelville

The November meeting of the WSCS met Wednesday evening at the home of Rev. and Mrs. Richard McDowell with Mrs. Edward Fetherolf assisting.

The meeting was opened by the president, Mrs. Wilson Ross. Mrs. George Bowers was in charge of the "Week of Prayer and Self Denial" program. Talks were given by Mrs. Arthur Hinton on Christian Literature in Africa. "Schools and Stair Houses in Africa" by Mrs. Winfred Dumm; "Christian Social Centers in Africa" by Mrs. George Bowers; "Equipment for Rural Workers" by Mrs. Pearl Armstrong; "Dulac Indian Center" by Mrs. Robert Bowers and "Valley Community Center at Parr, Texas" by Mrs. Ray Poling. Forty-five dollars was collected for the Self Denial Program.

Mrs. Don Kempton was in charge of the worship service. For meditation she spoke on "Social Creed" and "Moving Population." Topic "Changing World and the Ten Commandments" was given by Mrs. Pearl Armstrong and other members. Our society is invited to attend a tea and bazaar to be held November 18 at the Tarlton Methodist Church. Refreshments were served to 18 members and 2 visitors, Miss Dora Armstrong and Mrs. Ethel Lipel.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Stell of Circleville were Sunday afternoon guests of his mother Mrs. Ward Steel.

Those attending the Home Demonstration Work Shop at Logan on Thursday were: Mrs. Charles Pritchard, Mrs. Earl DeLong, Mrs. Ray Poling, Mrs. George Reid, Mrs. George Swackhamer and Mrs. John Spencer.

Ohio Farm Bureau Ends Its Annual Convention

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ferris Owen, of Newark, was re-elected president of the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation here Wednesday.

The group also re-elected six other officers as it closed its annual meeting with a discussion of proposed state and national policies for 1960.

Others re-elected were: Wendell Weller, of Urbana, vice president; D. R. Stanfield, of Westerville, executive vice president; Arnold Keller, of Elyria, treasurer; Charles W. Fullerton of Columbus, assistant treasurer; C. Maurice Witing, of Columbus, vice president, and Howard Freshbach, of Columbus, general counsel.

About 1,500 delegates of the 50,000 - member organization attended the convention.

Delegates maintain they want the Ohio State Fair, terming it the best means for farm people to show their products to the rest of the state.

Only minor changes were made in the 22 pages of tentative recommendations, officials said. The federation's views on a wide variety of topics from health to telephones now goes to the American Farm Bureau Federation for consideration at the national level.

The Ohio group's tax policy includes a suggestion that the Ohio Legislative Service Commission study the usefulness of both a state and a local income tax as a possible means of relieving property from current taxation levels.

The farmers want 200 days in stead of the current 120 days in which to file applications for gasoline tax refunds on off-highway vehicle use.

The federation suggested that a state fair commission be set up to hire a fair manager and determine policy. They also suggested enlargement of the grounds, modernization of fair buildings and year-around use of the facilities.

Ohio farmers are satisfied with present legislation on trespassing, the federation said, but it recommended "that all farmers carry farm liability insurance for protection against unknown risks."

Speaker Says Servicemen Lack Spiritual Guidance

The men in the armed services comprise one of the greatest mission fields which the churches in America have, a noted church executive told students at Circleville Bible College in an address here Tuesday.

Dr. George L. Ford, executive director of the National Association of Evangelicals, Wheaton, Ill., spoke at a chapel service.

The interdenominational church leader has just returned from conducting servicemen's retreats in the Orient which were a part of a trip that took him around the world. He is convinced from talking with chaplains and servicemen that the churches have failed to adequately prepare young men going into the service for the spiritual problems they will meet.

"Because of this," he says, "too many of them become spiritual casualties."

In his message here Dr. Ford suggested ways in which the churches can help spiritually prepare young men for military service. One of these is that they be trained to become missionaries to other servicemen. Through its Commission on Chaplains, the National Association of Evangelicals carries on a continuing ministry to servicemen.

MOTION TABLED—The greatest money-winner of all time, Round Table, now has been retired. The five-year-old star of the Travis Kerr stable started 66 times, won 43 races and finished out of the money only 10 times to win $1,749,869. He was to have started in the Washington, D. Lebanon Raceway Is Cleared; Manager Lashes Accusers

LEBANON, Ohio (AP)—With the Hamilton and Lebanon harness tracks cleared of any wrong-doing by the Ohio Racing Commission, Corwin Nixon, general manager at both tracks, lashed out against those responsible for the investigation which brought about charges of irregularities.

"I am naturally gratified but not surprised by the results of the investigation by the Racing Commission," Nixon said in a prepared statement.

"The statements made by Robert Terhune, director of agriculture, and Marvin Kline, assistant attorney-general, were politically inspired from the very beginning," Nixon said. "Only an irresponsible public official would make such false and malicious charges publicly."

William J. Cull, chief inspector for the Racing Commission, said Tuesday he found no evidence to substantiate the charges brought about by Kline.

Kline, assigned to the Agriculture Department, was granted a 60-day leave of absence after bringing charges against the Hamilton and Lebanon tracks.

Gov. Michael V. DiSalle later termed the charges by Kline as baseless.

"The Lebanon Trotting Assn. has been vindicated but much damage has been done," Nixon said. "My entire community has suffered from the majority and bad publicity, and no amount of good publicity can undo the harm already caused."

Nixon said it all started last spring when James Templeton, Warren County's first Democratic auditor, took Kline to the track here. Immediately following Kline's visit, Nixon was asked to resign as secretary of the county fair board, which he did. It was contended that Nixon could not legally hold the job as secretary of the fair board and serve as general manager of the racing interests in Lebanon.

Lunik II Expected To Die Next March

LONDON (AP)—Moscow radio today reported that the sun's gravitational attraction is shifting the orbit of Lunik II—in such a way that the Soviet moon rocket will burn up in the earth's atmosphere about next March.

The Lunik, which the Soviets say took the first photographs of the moon's far side, was fired on Oct. 4. It now completes one circuit of its orbit around the earth in 15 days.

DONALD CHRISTIANSON

Telephone last month and has undergone special training for the new sales post. He formerly was an account executive for General American Credits Corp., Columbus, his hometown.

The new salesman was graduated from North High School and attended Capital University, both in Columbus. He is a member of the Army National Guard's Combat Support Company, 166th Battle Group, Columbus.

In his new job, he will contact telephone business customers in connection with General Telephone's new sales program which was launched last month. Communities he will serve, besides Circleville, are Ashville, Laurelville and Williamsport.

Ohio Man Caught In Land Sale Fraud

NEWARK, N. J. (AP)—Police have arrested two men here on a charge of conspiring to sell land on which they had no claim to an Ohio man.

Charles Gould, 51, of Miami Beach, Fla., Tuesday was held in $2,500 bond and Richard Falk Vidavar, 51, of New York was held in $5,000 bond on the charge.

Police said they leased purported oil-bearing lands in New Mexico to Herman H. King, an insurance man from Sandusky, Ohio, for $120,000. They didn't have title to one parcel of the land, police said.

A British miner, Thomas Riley, won $585,421 on a 60 cent football pool bet in 1958.

Ohio Farm Bureau Ends Its Annual Convention

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ferris Owen, of Newark, was re-elected president of the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation here Wednesday.

The group also re-elected six other officers as it closed its annual meeting with a discussion of proposed state and national policies for 1960.

Others re-elected were: Wendell Weller, of Urbana, vice president; D. R. Stanfield, of Westerville, executive vice president; Arnold Keller, of Elyria, treasurer; Charles W. Fullerton of Columbus, assistant treasurer; C. Maurice Witing, of Columbus, vice president, and Howard Friesbach, of Columbus, general counsel.

About 1,500 delegates of the 50,000 - member organization attended the convention.

Delegates maintain they want the Ohio State Fair, terming it the best means for farm people to show their products to the rest of the state.

Only minor changes were made in the 22 pages of tentative recommendations, officials said. The federation's views on a wide variety of topics from health to telephones now goes to the American Farm Bureau Federation for consideration at the national level.

The Ohio group's tax policy includes a suggestion that the Ohio Legislative Service Commission study the usefulness of both a state and a local income tax as a possible means of relieving property from current taxation levels.

The farmers want 200 days in stead of the current 120 days in which to file applications for gasoline tax refunds on off-highway vehicle use.

The federation suggested that a state fair commission be set up to hire a fair manager and determine policy. They also suggested enlargement of the grounds, modernization of fair buildings and year-around use of the facilities.

Ohio farmers are satisfied with present legislation on trespassing, the federation said, but it recommended "that all farmers carry farm liability insurance for protection against unknown risks."

Speaker Says Servicemen Lack Spiritual Guidance

The men in the armed services comprise one of the greatest mission fields which the churches in America have, a noted church executive told students at Circleville Bible College in an address here Tuesday.

Dr. George L. Ford, executive director of the National Association of Evangelicals, Wheaton, Ill., spoke at a chapel service.

The interdenominational church leader has just returned from conducting servicemen's retreats in the Orient which were a part of a trip that took him around the world. He is convinced from talking with chaplains and servicemen that the churches have failed to adequately prepare young men going into the service for the spiritual problems they will meet.

"Because of this," he says, "too many of them become spiritual casualties."

In his message here Dr. Ford suggested ways in which the churches can help spiritually prepare young men for military service. One of these is that they be trained to become missionaries to other servicemen. Through its Commission on Chaplains, the National Association of Evangelicals carries on a continuing ministry to servicemen.

MOTION TABLED—The greatest money-winner of all time, Round Table, now has been retired. The five-year-old star of the Travis Kerr stable started 66 times, won 43 races and finished out of the money only 10 times to win $1,749,869. He was to have started in the Washington, D. C., International and his withdrawal drew criticism from the sponsors of the race.

Circleville is one of the more than 40 denominations that make up the membership of the National Association of Evangelicals. The NAE headquarters offices are in Wheaton, Ill.

Lebanon Raceway Is Cleared; Manager Lashes Accusers

LEBANON, Ohio (AP)—With the Hamilton and Lebanon harness tracks cleared of any wrong-doing by the Ohio Racing Commission, Corwin Nixon, general manager at both tracks, lashed out against those responsible for the investigation which brought about charges of irregularities.

"I am naturally gratified but not surprised by the results of the investigation by the Racing Commission," Nixon said in a prepared statement.

"The statements made by Robert Terhune, director of agriculture, and Marvin Kline, assistant attorney-general, were politically inspired from the very beginning," Nixon said. "Only an irresponsible public official would make such false and malicious charges publicly."

William J. Cull, chief inspector for the Racing Commission, said Tuesday he found no evidence to substantiate the charges brought about by Kline.

Kline, assigned to the Agriculture Department, was granted a 60-day leave of absence after bringing charges against the Hamilton and Lebanon tracks.

Gov. Michael V. DiSalle later termed the charges by Kline as baseless.

"The Lebanon Trotting Assn. has been vindicated but much damage has been done," Nixon said. "My entire community has suffered from the majority and bad publicity, and no amount of good publicity can undo the harm already caused."

Nixon said it all started last spring when James Templeton, Warren County's first Democratic auditor, took Kline to the track here. Immediately following Kline's visit, Nixon was asked to resign as secretary of the county fair board, which he did. It was contended that Nixon could not legally hold the job as secretary of the fair board and serve as general manager of the racing interests in Lebanon.

Lunik II Expected To Die Next March

LONDON (AP)—Moscow radio today reported that the sun's gravitational attraction is shifting the orbit of Lunik II— in such a way that the Soviet moon rocket will burn up in the earth's atmosphere about next March.

The Lunik, which the Soviets say took the first photographs of the moon's far side, was fired on Oct. 4. It now completes one circuit of its orbit around the earth in 15 days.
